Post Script to Honorable Alfred C. Sikes, Chairman of the Federal Communications Commission:

Here are a few pointed parallels possible under your ruling to allow aborted fetuses as part of a political candidate's television advertising campaign: Item--a candidate's platform includes sentiments against a. capital punishment; b. incest; c. child abuse; d. bestiality; e. drive-by shootings; f. ax murders.

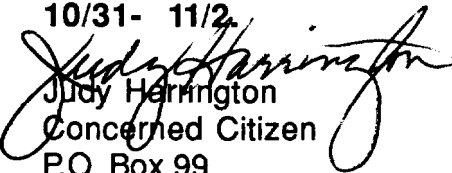

So...the candidate finds, buys (or creates?) the most graphic videos imaginable of these acts, and pays to show the most extreme of them (including autopsies and any other rivetting forensic evidence) in political advertisements. What's the difference between such attention-getting ploys and the aborted fetus ads? Whose prurient interests does this hideous material appeal to? Show me the face that belongs to those latex-gloved hands in one anti-abortion ad, and I'll point to at least one person whose prurient interest has been aroused in the name of religion and political agenda. Perhaps these candidates and their supporters would also like to see public hangings re-instituted, over the airways even, so everyone can get the picture of the pitiful results of human error.

Would Honorable Alfred C. Sikes approve? Would such artifacts of pornoviolence stop the horror, or would such sights instead promote blood lust in diseased minds? Isn't it enough that movie-goers can pay to see simulations of their favorite atrocity in theatres across the land? Do we have to be subjected to real gore for free on public television? I am sickened by such visions forced into my home in the name of family values and constitutional rights. How vigilant must I be to protect my 14 year old son from degrading visual truth used by politicians in their drive to election? Do I explain to my son that the end justified the means, no matter how miserable the "means" are?

I beg you--stop these aborted fetus ads. Otherwise you've opened the most perverted Pandora's Box in the history of American freedom.

Parents Beware! These ads are scheduled throughout the day from 10/31- 11/2.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

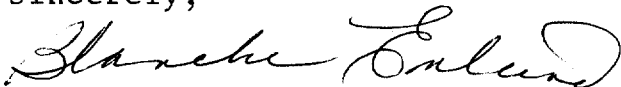

I find the television ad supported by the Right to Life group offensive. It is revolting and nauseating and unnecessary, particularly when broadcast during the lunch and dinner hours. If Right to Life is of the opinion they are gaining support for their stand on abortion, I can assure them they have lost more than they have gained.

I feel like a victim; I am being visually assaulted. When I recently telephoned Channel 4, Denver, Colorado, to protest the display of the aborted fetus, I was told that due to your regulations they cannot refuse to broadcast the ad.

If I am this offended at my age of 67 years, I wonder what it is doing to children, to men and women experiencing the recent loss of a baby by miscarriage or still birth, or to women who have had an abortion and are going through a traumatic period in their life because of that decision they had to make. The Right to Life ad is cruel.

I'm strongly pro-choice but I respect the right of another person to have a different opinion than mine; however, this aborted fetus ad has gone beyond good taste and common decency. I shall make it a point to write the representatives and senators of my district asking for a change of Federal Communications Committee regulations governing the content of television commercials.

Sincerely,

Blanche Enlund

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I believe in First Amendment rights and cherish these rights as an American citizen. What I find offensive are political candidates who abuse their right of free speech to benefit their personal causes. Take for example the broadcasting of four-month-old aborted fetuses on prime time television commercials to promote an anti-abortion stance. Matt Noah, a Christian Pro-Life Senate candidate from Boulder, Colorado, has persistently aired these graphic commercials for his self aggrandizement.

Please understand my feelings on this issue. I can not fathom how this obscenity has caused any anti-abortion or pro-choice thinking Americans to change their mind in anyway. As far as I'm concerned, Noah's use of the tragedy and murder of these aborted children to promote his pro-life beliefs further cheapens and demeans human life. Would you show charred bodies in a commercial as a way to promote fire safety laws? I think not. And is Matt Noah truly a candidate who feels that life is precious and is to be preserved? It's doubtful. God help us if he gets elected. Not only will we have to deal with Noah as a Senator, what will most likely happen is that we will be subjected to more commercials featuring unborn children and other atrocities.

Mr. Chairman, I understand that television stations have the right to refuse to air condom commercials and normally do. These commercials are not obscene, offensive or disgusting. But airing aborted fetuses is obscene, offensive and disgusting! Now, I'm not suggesting that every political commercial be reviewed and approved or disapproved based on content. What I would like to see is that television stations have a choice on when these commercials will air, preferably not in time slots when young children are likely to be present, and that they publish a broadcast schedule. A brief warning immediately prior to these commercials is not enough. I happened to walk in on one of these commercials. I also happened to be five-months pregnant when I saw it. Can you imagine my horror? Can you imagine the confusion and damage a child suffers when they see these commercials? WE ARE INNOCENT VICTIMS AND DON'T WANT TO BE SUBJECTED TO ABORTED FETUSES FEATURED IN POLITICAL ADS IN THE NAME OF FREE SPEECH!!!!!! There must be something done that will both satisfy a candidate's inalienable First Amendment rights without damaging the American public's inalienable rights, which they purport to serve.

Sincerely,

I feel that the political ads being shown that depict aborted fetuses are especially harmful to children. I am a licensed child care provider and am appalled that these ads are run during the day when children are watching. On both 10/30 and 11/02 these ads are scheduled to appear during After School Specials!! If the candidate was campaigning against pornography would he/she be allowed to show portions of XXX films? When I was 13 year old Abortion was unheard of and illegal. I had a friend, also 13, who was raped in her bed at night when a criminal broke into their house. That 13 year old child became pregnant and was forced to carry that baby to term because of "no Abortion" laws. Subsequently my friend was driven into hopeless insanity and spent the rest of her years in an institution. The baby was sent to an orphanage and became just another rejected human being.

Why? Was it because a child of 13 thought she could sleep in her own bed at night with no fear of harm? Why did the horrible "no Abortion" law punish that child?

Now Mr. Chairman, why is an obviously perverted person allowed to force his views on other people at dinner time with no warning?

There are times when Abortion is appropriate and I shudder to think that certain mind sets are trying to force people to go back to those archaic laws.

Every person who is born should be loved, wanted and properly cared for.

ow, you've probably been exposed to the political ads being broadcast by an anti-abortion candidate. They show bloodied, aborted fetuses. They are broadcast without adequate warning and in time slots he chooses.

y, I don't care what this guy's politics are, and I don't care what his views on abortion are.

if I do care about is my 3½ year old son, Charlie. I care about the other kids in this community. And I care about those women, and men, who have suffered agony of miscarriage, still-birth, abortion.

I admire someone who speaks up for what he or she believes - no matter how unpopular the view. But not this. I'm all for this guy's right of free speech. But when the exercise of his freedom endangers my child - or others - then it ends, right there! Show these horrible pictures endangers children and certain others. It's outrageous!

HERE'S WHY I OBJECT to These Harmful to People

I believe the airing of these TV spots presents a clear and present danger of inflicting harm upon my children and others in this community. In their statement to the FCC, joining our complaint, The Colorado Women's Chologists organization has this say:

"It is our belief that these ads may be potentially harmful, particularly to children and certain populations of women: women who may have recently aborted, experienced a miscarriage or stillbirth, are experiencing an unwanted pregnancy..."

"Seeing an image of a fetus in the particular context and with the notional delivery which is displayed in these ads may make a vivid impression and traumatize some children."

There's No Warning

These TV ads are run at all hours - including when children are watching. A warning seconds before the begins is hardly adequate for parents. A small child will not understand the warning. Further, the parent might not be in the room - or even in the house. The candidate would be required to publish a warning in the local newspaper well in advance so that parents have the opportunity, as they do with all other scheduled television programs, to exert some control over what their children are exposed to.

Dear Mr. Chairman:

I want you to know that I strongly object to the broadcasting of political ads in my home that show horrible pictures of aborted fetuses. I ask that you allow the management of TV stations in my community to prevent this from occurring again. If you will not do this, at least allow the stations to air this kind of material at times when children will not be watching, and require the advertiser to publish in the local newspaper a warning and schedule of these ads at least 48 hours before their broad cast.

Mr. Chairman, this is an outrage and I want it stopped. Now!
